Tiger Logistics Gears Up to Revolutionize Global Logistics with “FreightJar Beta Version Launch”

Dear Sir,

We would like to inform that your company, Tiger Logistics (India) Limited is aggressively working on the launch of Beta version of FreightJar (Digital Logistics Platform), which will focus on the global market (overseas importers, exporters and overseas logistics company). Just for records - Freightjar, a proprietary platform of Tiger Logistics, is a digital logistics and freight management platform which was launched in the month of April, 2023.

In the Beta Version, the company is making provisions that the international importer and exporters can directly access freight rates from India to various part of the world and vice-versa and they can book shipments online. The added feature of direct booking for shipments adds a layer of convenience and efficiency to their overall user experience.

This strategic move is a testament to our dedication to enhancing and simplifying global logistics processes, aligning with the interests and prosperity of our valued shareholders. We eagerly anticipate the positive impact this Beta version launch will have on the international trade community and the subsequent benefits for our stakeholders.

Request you to kindly take note of the same.
